JRT Mechanical Newsletter

Emery Rudolf

Emery grew up in Barstow CA before moving to WA in 2007. He has 2 siblings and went to Mountain View Highschool and into the construction industry after graduation. He worked at Total Energy Concepts where he dug ditches and All-weather Wood where he had a forklift position which lead him to his current position as an insulator at JRT.

Emery is out at the Ephrata Schools with Bob Hennings and Paul Homola where he said a typical day in the field is getting up way earlier than he desires, showing up at the jobsite and giving it his all the whole day. His favorite part of working at JRT as an insulator is being able to work and communicate with all other trades.

On his off time Emery enjoys working on cars, renovating his home as well as hanging out with his puppy! He said his family are all very outgoing and supportive of everyone's choices and goals. One of his goals is to be financially free by the age of 30. He said his family and friends would describe him as a go-getter, hard worker and compassionate person. His girlfriend describes him as caring. When asked what would surprise us about him, Emery said probably the fact he & his girlfriend bought a house at the age of 20 and have lived there a year.

Employee of the month

I nominate Caroline for employee of the month. I can't say enough about her work ethic. She is a trooper. When something needs done it doesn't matter how long it will take she's going to see it through. She had a project for payroll that needed to be done before payroll was ran and pulled an all nighter to make sure it was ready. This nomination is long overdue. - Drew Johnson

Caroline Karvonen

Caroline has done a great job managing all of our payroll needs! Even as often as management is changing up different standards like per diem, she's always on board with being flexible and making it happen! I don't think anyone realizes how much effort and time goes into doing JRT's payroll and she's able to pull it off every week! Thanks Caroline!

Productivity tip for November

Evergreen State College maintenance employees let us use this penetration oil, it's called DRI. Works excellent, we had rusted fittings, some of them 50 years old. Tap the joint a few times, spray the oil, tap a few more times, wait a few minutes for the oil to do its thing and it will come apart. I highly recommend this product for anyone taking apart old and rusty pipe fittings!

Thanks Paul Homola

Octobers Winner

Send in any of your ideas that we can share to increase production to Ron Bergmann @ 360-903-2742 or ronb@jrtmechanical.com If your idea is selected in a future newsletter, you will receive $50.00 cash.
