Eddie Erickson

Eddie was born and raised in Battle Ground WA along with his older sister Elli, who's married. He has a nephew Rory who is a year old. Eddie is the oldest grandson of the Tapani Family and has 30 younger cousins. When asked about his family he said "they all pre dust but since my mom will be writing this down it pry won't make it in the interview"

Eddie started working after school for Sorenson Construction and after a 1.5 years he started framing for A-Built Construction. He tried roofing (big mistake) before coming to JRT and working as a plumbing apprentice. When asked what the best part of his job is he replied "drilling holes is pretty chill"

Eddie is going into his 4th year plumbing apprenticeship and said "it went by really fast." We asked Eddie if he had any funny work stories and he related about the time they paid Seth Miller to deep throat a Charleston Chew.

A typical day for Eddie is "wake up, shred to work, come home, eat dinner and go play volleyball or chill then hit the hay"

On his time off Eddie likes to snowmobile, dirt bike, wake surf, hunt and fish.

EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH

DREW JOHNSON

Drew puts the effort and long hours every week to make sure the company finances are dialed in & to make sure his team is being supported. He's always happy to help, not afraid to stay late, and is always bringing new ideas for improvement here at JRT.— Andy Bergmann

For his hard work in accessing the incentives available though the government due to Covid-19. I know he worked long days and weekends to make it happen. – Matt Johnson
